

Bass, Berry & Sims Elects New Members

Nashville, Tenn., (January 23, 2018) – Bass, Berry & Sims PLC is pleased to announce the election of six new members in the firm: Douglas W. Dahl II, Lara A. Flatau, Charles G. Jarboe, Sehrish Siddiqui, Justin T. Starling and Erica Bell Vick. The three individuals listed below are members of the Tennessee Bar Association.

Lara A. Flatau (Nashville) – Flatau counsels healthcare companies on joint ventures, mergers, acquisitions and other strategic transactions. She works with clients to structure operations in compliance with federal and state regulatory and operational issues and offers guidance on day-to-day matters, including healthcare regulatory analysis, licensure and other issues related to the corporate practice of medicine. Flatau earned a J.D. from Vanderbilt Law School (2009) and a B.A. from Vanderbilt University (2005).

Sehrish Siddiqui (Memphis) – Siddiqui counsels a wide variety of public companies primarily in the areas of corporate finance, compliance and governance. She has served as counsel to underwriters, agents and issuers for more than 100 initial public offerings, follow-on offerings and at-the-market programs of various NYSE- and Nasdaq-traded entities. Siddiqui earned a J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center (2009) and a B.A. from the University of Memphis (2005).

Erica Bell Vick (Nashville) – Vick serves as legislative counsel to a number of businesses and trade associations and is a registered lobbyist with extensive experience representing the interests of clients before the Tennessee General Assembly and the state executive branch. Throughout her career, Vick has worked on multiple landmark public policy initiatives and represented clients in matters where government and business intersect. Vick earned a J.D. from the University of Tennessee College of Law (2003) and a B.A. from the University of Tennessee (2000).
